

Diagram illustrating the dot product of two vectors. A 3x3 matrix A is multiplied by a 3x1 vector b to produce a 3x1 vector c . The first row of A is highlighted in green, and the first element of b is highlighted in green. The result c is shown with the first element highlighted in green.